THE NEWS OF EVANSVILLE

Charity Ball a Success—Farmer's Institute ---Business Man Crazy.

Evansville, Feb. 14—The fourth annual charity ball took place in Evansville, Friday evening and it was a most enjoyable affair. Prof. John Smith's orchestra, of Janesville, consisting of seven pieces, furnished excellent music and an orhestral concert was given from 8 to 9 and was highly appreciated by a very large crowd. The clarinet solo was especially fine. The solo sung by George L. Hatch entitled "The Idol of My Heart," was well received and he reponded to a hearty encore, with "What's in My Heart." The grand march was at nine o'clock.

This was by far the largest dancing party that has been given here this winter. Over one hundred and sixty tickets were sold and nearly $90 will be added to the poor fund. The committee in carge is to be congratulated.

Farmers' Institute.

The Farmers' Institute will be held in Magee's hall, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 18 and 13. HOUSE FOR CUBANS THE VOTE SHOWS

RESOLUTION PASSED BY THE LOWER BODY.

Secretary Is Directed to Furnish Information As To Spain's Dealings With the Insurgents and the Autonomy Plan—No Solution of De Lome Tangle—Send More Guns.

Washington, Feb. 14—[Special]—The house of representatives today adopted a resolution calling upon Secretary Otes for information as to

SENATOR ALLEN.

Spain's dealing with the starving Cubans and the promises of autonomy.

Washington, Feb. 14—[Special]—The senate foreign committee has reported favorably on Senator Allen's measure recognizing the Cuban republic.

Washington, Feb. 15—[Special]—The DeLome affair this morning remains open, although with the indication of settlement. The minister's resignation is not satisfactory, while his further disgrace is regarded out of the question at Madrid. A compromise may be effected by an official statement by Spain that she regrets DeLome's act, and blames him for wrong doing.

Washington, Feb. 14—[Special]—Spain has unofficially declined to apologize for DeLome's act.

Cuban Cause Advanced.

New York, Feb. 14—[Special]—Dispatches from Havana say that the Cuban army is growing larger every day. Enthusiasm is increasing in every part of the island and volunteers are joining the ranks from all the principal cities of the island. The insurgents are confident of success.

De Lome Sails Wednesday.

Washington, Feb. 14—[Special]—Ex-Spanish Minister De Lome will sail for Spain on Wednesday.

The Grand Colorado Canyon.

"Queer American Rivers" is the title of an article in St. Nicholas, written by F. R. Spearman. The author says of the great intermountain streams, like the Yellowstone and the Colorado:

They flow through landscapes of desolate grandeur, vast expanses compassed by endless mountain ranges that chill the bright skies with never melting snows. The countless peaks look down on the clouds, while far below the clouds wind valleys that the sunlight never reaches. Twisting in gloomy dusk through these valleys, a gaping canyon yawns. Peering fearfully into its black, forbidding depths, an echo reaches the ear. It is the fury of a mighty river, so far below that only a sullen roar rises to the light of day. With frightful velocity it rushes through a channel cut during centuries of patience deep into the stubborn rock. Now mad with whirlpools, now silently awful with stretches of green water that wait to lure the boatman to death, the mighty river rushes darkly through the Grand Colorado canyon.

No sport, no fun, no frolic there. Here are only awe inspiring gloom and grandeur and dangers so hideous that only a handful of men have ever braved them—fewer still survived.

The Effect of Fog.

Accidents due to the obscuration of objects by fog are so common that scientists are making a study of absorbent power of fog as regards lights of all kinds. It appears that London fog absorbs 20.8 per cent of the light from an incandescent burner, while the ordinary gas flame loses but 11.1 per cent. The incandescent light contains more blue, and this is readily absorbed by the fog. Red lights are much more penetrative than blue, and as the gaslight contains far more red than the electric it is much more valuable as a light for use in very heavy fogs. It is a fact familiar to every one that when the sun shows through mist it is of a deep red color. This is accounted for by the fact that the blue rays are entirely absorbed, leaving only the red with its much more powerful quality of penetration.—New York Ledger.

Hottentot.

Hottentot is hard to pronounce if the graphic description of Dr. Aurel Schulz does it no injustice: "I can safely liken the language to the clicking of a multitude of different rusty old gun locks simultaneously set in motion. It is simply appalling to hear the fatty click gut tkoot, tick lick mktchuk gtkowktok gtu-gkti-gkkij, accompanied by many gurglings."

IS SHERMAN ANGRY BECAUSE OF SLIGHT

RUMOR THAT THE SECRETARY MAY QUIT.

Charge Is Made That He Had No Hand In the DeLome Affair and That He Does Not Relish The Fact—Not To Extend Rural Mail Delivery.

Washington, Feb. 14—[Special]—The talk of Secretary Sherman resigning from President McKinley's cabinet has again been revived here,

SECRETARY SHERMAN.

although the rumors lack confirmation It is said, upon just what authority does not appear, that the secretary is dissatisfied with the management of the DeLome affair. It is alleged that he had no hand in it whatever, and that the whole matter was attended to by Assistant Secretary Day. This is given as the cause of the present alleged friction, and the story may or may not be true.

Drop Rural Mail Delivery.

Washington, Feb. 14—[Special]—The Post Office department announces that further extensions of the rural free delivery system will not be attempted until after the close of the present fiscal year.

LAID TO REST WITH HONOR

Dr. F. L. Von Suessmilch Interred at Delavan, Wis.

Delavan, Wis., Feb. 14—The funeral of Dr. F. L. von Suessmilch was held yesterday, at noon. The body was taken from the house to the Baptist church, members of Beloit commandery, Knights Templar, of which the deceased was for several years eminent commander, acting as escort. The body remained in state until 2 o'clock, and was viewed by hundreds from this and neighboring towns. At 2 o'clock 400 Masons marched to the church in a body. Episcopal services were read at the church, while members of the Masonic grand lodge took charge at the grave, Grand Secretary John W. Laflin and Grand Lecturer M. L. Young performing the ceremonies. Immense floral pieces were contributed by different grand bodies.

The special train from Milwaukee brought sixty-five members of the consistory, and one from the west an equal number of sir knights from Beloit. The city council, the fire department and other civic organizations joined in the procession.

Dr. Von Suessmilch had been a Mason for thirty-three years. In 1885 he was advanced to the thirty-third degree at a meeting of the supreme council in Detroit. He had been treasurer of the Wisconsin grand lodge esch alternate year since 1878 and treasurer of the consistory since 1871. He had been treasurer of the school district for thirty-one years.

Not So Green as He Seemed.

"Never heard how I got the best of that firm of grabbers down in New York, did you?" And the retired capitalist had a cackling sort of chuckle all to himself before proceeding.

"I went over there with quite a pot of money. Being something of a tenderfoot, they made some big inroads on my pile, and I saw that I must get a better grip on the game or go broke. So I pulled out, leaving them under the impression that I had been well plucked and went quietly to work to fit myself for fighting a certain kind of fellows with fire. I'm not defending myself on moral grounds, but it was a case of do or be done, and I had no more liking for being done.

"My first move was to acquire a practical knowledge of telegraphy. Then I went to the firm of grabbers, who had a mean sort of consideration for me because they had the best of me and secured a clerkship. Then I assiduously cultivated their private telegraph operator at considerable expense. To him I professed myself a crank on the subject of ciphers as used in correspondence or in literary work where important secret work was done under the surface. Heated by argument and a bottle of wine, he gave me the firm's cipher, just to emphasize a point he was trying to make.

"Then I had them, and maybe I didn't put on the screws. I used to get within hearing of the instrument, which no one thought I could read, and had the best inside information every day. I had a secret agent utilizing it and coined money while the gang went fairly wild over its continued and inexplicable hard luck. When I got through with them, they hadn't enough money to pay their debts."—Detroit Free Press.

MR. BRYAN MAY HEAD NEW ORGANIZATION

NEW YORK POLITICIANS TAKE THAT VIEW.

They Say His Recent Letter Urging The United Action of All Opposed To the Republicans Was Issued Solely With That Idea In View.

New York, Feb. 14—[Special]—W. J. Bryan's statement which was published recently urging united action in the approaching congressional campaign by all who are opposed to the republican party, is now regarded here as presaging the formation of a new party, democratic in name, but of different organization.

Bryan, it is said, sees the handwriting on the wall. He realizes that the masses of democracy cannot be gotten back into line. The great leaders are not in sympathy with him and his beliefs, and he is loth to give up his pet theories. Hence the new plan.

W. J. BRYAN.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS.

The pastor of the Congregational church spoke yesterday morning on the subject, "The Islands of the Sea" from the text, "and the isle shall wait for His law." The man who wrote these words had probably never seen an island on the sea. It was the symbol to him of the remote things of which he knew but little. But he had the feeling that however distant those islands might be from his own people there was yet a truth so simple and deep that it would have meaning to each of them. In our modern life we are separated from each other just as the islands of the sea were separated from the land. Our differing occupations make us strangers to each other. The lawyer has one set of interests and one kind of temptation, the laboring man another, the physicians another. They use different languages almost. The rich man cannot fully understand the strain of a life that wants for bread. The practical man sometimes cannot understand the student. Our different tastes separate us from each other. One man may care much for music and art, another may care nothing and so they become almost foreigners to each other. But deep down below these things which separate us from each other there is a broad and fundamental truth which means something to all alike. The prophets vision was of the coming of one whose law should be clear even to the far off islands of the sea. What is there in Christ which makes possible the assertion that all men can understand his law? We may this morning notice only one thing, the simplicity of his truth. Plato's plan, Mr. Bellamy's scheme for improving life do not have any especial power over most lives because they lack that fundamental, human truth of which any man can feel the power. Christ came to save men. I propose that you shall be a better man, is his message. What man, of any calling or condition of life, is there who does not know what that means. Christ's plan is simply this that we shall become men of faith; not men whose lives end in houses and money, but men whose souls reach up to mercy and truth; even to God himself. Faith is to believe in something better and to seek to reach it. Christian faith is to believe in God and to seek to be true to Him. To whom does not that idea of faith have a meaning? But if we say that when a man does seek to live up to those higher unseen things of God has weaknesses make him fail Christ's answer is just as simple. When a man wants anything and has not the power to get it what will he do? He will ask for help, he will call in the aid of another strength. When a man cannot live in faith and love by his own strength let him ask help of God. That is the simplest thing in the world to do.

If the outward forms of religion do not mean so very much to us; if the language of creed and sermon are not the language of our own life, we may turn to that simple proposition of Christ's, "I propose that you shall be a better man, a man of faith and love. by the help of God.

Christ's simplicity shows itself also in His frank affection. If a man were going off into bad ways, and a friend should come to him and say, simply, "I love your good name and your peace of mind; for my sake and your own, I want you to be true, and I will help you, whatever it costs me," who would not understand that? To whom would it not be a strong appeal? Christ's life is just as simple as that. It is God saying to men, "I love you; I wish you well and I will help you reach your highest life and joy even though I must suffer for you." The pastor of the church and of the christian life is to show these things to men to let them see what christianity wants is simply a better man. Not an endorser of creeds but simply a man of faith in God and love to man instead of a man whose life ends with meat and drink and self And we must let our straightforward, simple love of men prove to them that this is what our religion means and what it wants of them.

In the evening Mr. Denison spoke of how the christian idea that things need not always remain as they we had improved life. It had set near faces toward the future, it had resulted in discovery of better things and had brought about a strong and steady effort of labor to reach and posses those better things.

THE COURT STREET M.E.

After that memorable first passover our Savior went about Judea preching and baptizing. Jesus himself did not baptize. That work was only and truly secondary. He left it to his disciples. His popularity at this time was real and intense. Great crowds thronged. Multitudes hung breathless on his every syllable. John's disciples murmur in heart, complaints on lips gather about him darkly. "Rabbi," they say "he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him." Jealousy is a thing of midnight color. Only crime is blacker. Listen to John. A man can can receive nothing except it have been given him from heaven." Is a man or woman doing meanly it is fiendish to envy such a one. To be jealous of one doing good is to set yourself against God himself. Both faculty and opportunity are from him "He that hath the bride is the bridegroom.' The bride rightfully belongs to him; but he John was the friend of the bridegroom. He rejoiced greatly to hear the bride groom's voice. Then John spoke those words forever memorable, "He must increase, but I must decrease." Down the dark passages of prison life John walks to his own beheading. In a moment his life was snuffed out. But did he decrease? Had he lived for self oblivion would have buried him miles out of sight. But the grand hero was utterly true to Christ. He abased self. He exalted Christ. His sentences embalmed in Holy Scripture are splendid as supphires, and more endearing than stars. Be humble. Exalt Christ and light immortal circles your forehead, Christ John in prison. Chriat righly gauging the hostility in high quarters against himself desists from baptizing. He would do the next thing double. He could still teach and heal. Back of the imprisonment of John by Herod Antipas was the hostility of those in authority, who are also bitter against Christ. He leaves Judea. He must needs go through Samaria. He was living out in his life human, planning that which was divine. To go through Samaria was part of the plan. Whatever His route, He stood at last in the picturesque and lovely valley of Shechem. Olive covered and vineyard brightened with Mt. Ebal to His right and Mt. Gerizem to the lef, His eyes rested on a landscape gem. It is noon. He has arrived at Jacob's well The Jews loathed the Samaritans. Their land and houses were considered clean, but their food according to many of the Rabbis was swine's flesh. Jesus a Jew is greatly larger than any of the Rabbis. He sends his disciples to Sychar to buy food. Christ is always intensely sane. Our Saviour stands on ground historic. Here Joshua read the laws. On Ebal's summit yonder he built an altar. On the top of Gerizem the Samaritans had build a temple. He could see its ruins But Christ was man. He was warm and weary with the journey. There is a shady alcove by the well, he will sit down and rest. He hears a step on the stone above him. Looks up. There stands a woman of Sarario. A Jewish rabbi might not speak to any woman even his own wife on the street. Christ sees here an immortal soul. He must have it. We cannot follow Christ without becoming fishers of men. Step by step he leads her on. He is a fisher indeed. From seen to unseen, that is ever his way. It is ever his way. It is from the water physical to living water. He reveals himself himself more by telling her of her many husbands. Now she questions. It is not where you worship, but how. It is not the attitude of the body but the posture of the soul. "God is a spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." Every age idea has had to do with the outward. Mr. Hall then spoke of Greece and her high art, of Rome and her power, of what France sought in the French Revolution, the idea of our own time is material comfort and conveience. Christ stood squarely and strong for the inward He taught God's fatherhood and man's brotherhood; love to God; love for each other. The things of sense pass; the things of the spirit only abide.

In the evening Mr. Hall spoke to a large gathering on the subject, "Aim Well."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Pence preached yesterday morning on the subject "The Greatness of Moses and Some Laws of Greatness," taking his text from Deut. 34 10-12. There arose not a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face." This is an epitaph. written as an estimate of a man after he had died. We do not know by whom, possibly Joshua, Caleb or Ezra and there has always been a belief that Moses wrote the first five books of the Bible. But it makes no difference who wrote it. Men spoke as they were moved by the Spirit of God. In what did Moses' greatness consist? First in his absorption or submergement of self in his great work. We cannot fail to notice his self forgetfulness and all through his history there is never a word of praise or arrogance or bravado for the great work which he did. On the other hand we see the very severest criticism of the man, when on rare occasions his natural disposition assented itself and he fell into sin and error.

He was greater still in his closeness to God, he talked with him face to face. He was also great because he was adapted to his day and age When Moses appeared on the scene, there immediately was a great circumstance that demanded a great man. He was to bring the vast army of the children of Israel out of Egypt and into the promised land. This also required a great general and he was at hand in the person of Joshua. In the time of a great circumstance in the hour of a great need there is always a great man ready at hand. As time goes on we see other great occasions demanding other great men as Isaih, Jeremiah, John the Baptist and they appear when needed.

Later on, at the time of a great crisis in the development of Christianity, just at its beginning, God had his man ready to meet the need, and that man was Saul of Tarsus. Centuries later, there was a demand for an Augustine, and Luther, a Calvin, a John Wesley, and a Whitfield, and the great man in each instance was ready for the great need. When deism threatened to destroy with its subtle arguments, the Christianity of England, Bishop Butler was ready with his great books, which literally swept deism out of England and the world forever. Coming down to our own times, eighty-four years ago in a humble log hut in Kentucky, Abraham Lincoln was born, and then began the developing of that marvelous intellect, that great heart so capacious in its love for mankind, and that conscience so tender to the appeals of the law of God. There came a time when Abraham Lincoln, with all his marvelous intellect and moral power and personal genius was able by one stroke of his pen to free 3,000,000 slaves, Tell me, if you will, if there is ever a great circumstance that God does not have a great man in readiness for it?

But remember that there is no difference or distinction in greatness, in the eyes of Almighty God. Any of us may be great by this law of greatness The circumstances for each one of us in our lives, may be as great as Moses' circumstances were for Him, and if we are equal to our life's circumstances, and to the submission of self-demanded to fill out the purpose and will of God for us, we are as great in God's eyes as Moses was.

The Christian Endeavor meeting was led by S. S. Waddell. The evening sermon was the first one in a series on the early history of christianity in the Roman Empire, to which series all are earnestly and cordially invited. Next Sunday evening's sermon will be on "The Roman; His Morals and His Immorality."

BAPTIST CHURCH.

A very large congregation greeted Pastor A. C. Kempton yesterday morning. His subject was "The Key of Mourning and the Gate of Comfort." A beautiful solo "Sanctus Maria" was sung by Miss Anderson, accompanied by the organ and Miss Elizabeth Palmer on the violin. Mr. Kempton's text was in Matt 5-4, Isa 54-4. I would be the last one to advocate a long-faced religion, but there is such a thing as sorrow leading to joy. Sometimes we are led upward by the only way which leads us upward, the way of mists and sorrow. Notice first, that he who goes forth weeping for his sins, shall receive a blessing. It matters not where we may be, if we are sorry for our sins, we shall be comforted. When the angels see one in sorrow because of this sins they greatly rejoice. True sorrow for sin leads us to holy living.

Again, a blessing is pronounced upon those who sympathize with others in their sorrow. Jesus was ever in sympathy with those in trouble. Oh, that we might be less selfish and more able to sympathize with those who are in trouble and sorrow.

Notice again that there is comfort for all of us in our own personal losses. God can make even our trials and losses bring us to be more and more Christlike.

Sometimes the taking away of our earthly possessions leads us to a more spiritual life. Blessed are those who mourn the loss of health. We shall all need this comfort some day. There are many examples of physical suffering, where men have been led to look upward to God for help and comfort.

Blessed are they who have been called to mourn the loss of loved ones. We may not understand why we are made to suffer loss, but we may receive comfort if we but have the flower of faith planted upon the tomb of our loved ones. Plant the flower of hope there. Place also the lily of resignation there. This comfort in troubles only comes to those who are willing to look up into the face of Jesus, the great Saviour of sinners.

In the evening, Mr. Kempton's subject was "The Sinner's Sheet Anchor." His text was in John, 6:37, "Him that cometh unto me, I will in no wise cast out." This has been called the sinner's sheet anchor. A ship must have an anchor. There are many here tonight who are just launched upon the sea of life. Storms will come. Have you got the anchor on board? Here is a good one for you. The very words of Christ are here. Put your trust in Him.

This verse is a description of the anchor. The various parts are here described. Notice that when the storms of life come, we need something to hold us in safety. Even when death itself comes we need an anchor to hold us and here in this promise is the anchor for the soul. Does your anchor hold? Will you take this blessed promise as your own? The anchors of good resolution, good works, church attendance, and we have all been tried and failed, but this sheet anchor of the Saviour always holds. It is not simply for an ornament but for a practical purpose. So with this great promise it is for the practical purpose of holding you in the chorus of trial, God help you to use it. After the service baptism was administered to three candidates. An interesting ten minute after meeting was held after the baptisms.

TWO CELEBRATIONS HELD SATURDAY NIGHT.

Twilight Club Members Hear Personal Reminisciences By David Jeffris, Judge Bennett and A. A. Jackson—W. H. Sargent Post Woman's Relief Corps Gives An Entertainment.

THE LIFE OF LINCOLN.

1809—Born in Harden county, Kentucky.
1832-37—Laborer, salesman, merchant, surveyor, lawyer, private and afterward captain during the Blackhawk war.
1834-42—Whig member of the Illinois legislature.
1847-49—Whig member of congress from Illinois.
1848—Republican candidate for United States senate, debating with Douglass.
1860—Nominated for president by the republicans, and was elected.
1861—Inaugurated as president of United States.
1864—Re-elected president of the United States.
1865—April 15—Assassinated by J. Wilkes Booth, while at Ford's theatre.
1765—April 15—Died of the wound inflicted by the assassin.

Two Janesville organizations celebrated Lincoln's birthday Saturday—the Twilight club, and W. H. Sargent Post Womans Relief Corps.

The Twilight club's session was held in the Hotel Myers ordinary. Rev. E. H. Pence was the leader, and told a story of Lincoln in calling the meeting to order.

David Jeffris, who knew Lincoln as a young man, and was acquainted with his parents, gave some personal recollections. Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Jeffris resided near each other, both in Kentucky and Illinois. Lincoln, he said, was not an eloquent speaker, and as a young man he was not particularly conspicuous, although he had a reputation as an athlete and wrestler.

Judge John R. Bennett was the next speaker. He read extracts from Lincoln's speeches and told of the convention that nominated Mr. Lincoln. Judge Bennett was a delegate to the convention, which was held in the Wigwam at Chicago in 1860. He spoke of Lincoln's familiarity with the bible, and told of hearing him speak in Milwaukee.

A. A. Jackson's Account.

A. A. Jackson told of bringing Lincoln to Janesville from Beloit on Oct. 1st, 1859, and of the speech Lincoln made at Young America hall on that evening. He remained over Sunday in the city and was entertained by Wm. M. Tallman. In coming over from Beloit to Janesville by the prairie road and when about five miles outside of Beloit, Mr. Lincoln referred to the fact that he passed over that section when on the march in the Black Hawk war. Mr. Jackson first saw Mr. Lincoln at Freeport, Aug. 27, 1858, when he met Douglas in debate in that city.

The addresses ware all of unusual interest and the session was an exceptionally profitable one.

The topic for the next meeting will be "Municipal Government," and Dr. J. B. Whiting was chosen leader.

Rev. A. C. Kempton, M. D. Wyman, Eau Claire, Wis.; J. F. Schindler and Dr. Stone, Milwaukee; D. F. Sayre, Fulton; C. C. MacLean and Charles Sutherland were the guests of the club Saturday evening.

THE RELIEF CORPS CELEBRATION

Entertainment Was Given at Post Hall Saturday Evening.

W. H. Sargent Post Woman's Relief Corps marked Lincoln's birthday with a celebration held at Post Hall. HUMOR

MULCTING THE COMPANY.

How Wayback Brought the Railroad Company to Time and Made It Settle.

"I understand," said the railroad attorney to Farmer Wayback, who had been injured in a recent wreck on the road, "that you had your collar bone broken, your arm dislocated, one of your fingers mashed off, your head bruised"—

"An about half the skin scraped off my body," put in the farmer, "not countin the ticket ter Smithville, which I lost an which cost me $2.08."

"I want to say," went on the lawyer, "that my company has been fully acquainted with the extent of your injuries and would be willing to consider any reasonable offer in the way of compromising the case."

"Oh, I ain't no hog," observed the farmer, "but I can't git over the idee that it's worth somethin ter a railroad company ter grind a hull settlement inter hamburg steak, an I intend ter mek 'em pay fer it if I haf ter go ter the supreme court."

"The company is willing to do whatever is right," said the attorney.

"Then, dad blame 'em, let 'em give me back my ticket ter Smithville!" cried the farmer. "That's what I want, an that's what I'm goin ter have."

When the almost fainting lawyer had left the house, the farmer turned to his wife and jabbing her in the ribs so as to attract her attention observed, with a chuckle: "Did ye see how I brought that ole cuss ter time? Reckon he'd 'a' wanted my farm if he'd 'a' knowed that when that train jumped the track I socked one uv my feet through a big $100 looking glass in the vesterbule."—New York Sunday Journal.

Ineffective Grinding.

SELECTIONS

HUMAN BODY AS BAROMETER

Weather Changes Foretold by Those Who "Feel It In Their Bones."

Human barometers are among the curiosities of weather lore, and some parts of our anatomy form an almost infallible signal service, which was known and recognized as such long before government exploited its science of meteorology.

Centuries ago people in New England as well as in the old world knew when a storm was approaching by their rheumatic twinges. Their descendants did the same thing, and many now living need no other forecast of a change of weather. Shakespeare, who certainly knew a little of everything, thus alludes to the fact:

Therefore the moon, the governor of floods,
Pale in her anger, washes all the air
That rheumatic diseases do abound.

"I feel it in my bones" is another precursor of a storm.

As old sailors have all points,
O' the compass in their bones and joints,
Can by their pangs and stitches find
All turns and changes in the wind,
And, better than by Napier's bones,
Feel in their own the change in moons.

Soldiers will tell of aching wounds whenever the air changes. There is a contraction of the muscles about the injured parts which foretells a storm, and the wound that gives them but little inconvenience during fine weather grumbles and pains until the bad spell is over. The theory is a true one, accounted for by medical scientists on uncontroverted testimony.

"My corns ache; we are going to have rain," is heard as often today as it was when somebody wrote the ancient couplet:

A coming storm your shooting corns presage
And aches will throb, your hollow teeth will rage.

The belief that the weather was responsible for crime was prevalent in the past:

Why has such a one murdered his brother?
For these facts if a reason you'd find,
The same cause stands for one as the other,
It's that horrible easterly wind.

This odd rhyme should have originated in Boston, where the phrase the "wind is east" passes from lip to lip like some cruel spell, although it is never necessary for the true Bostonian to be told that the wind is east. He feels it in his bones and shivers over the knowledge.

High winds produce a forecast of bad weather which physicians diagnose as "frontal headache." It is a dull pain in the forehead, accompanied by depression of spirits, and it indicates a low or falling barometer. A popular preacher who lived many years in Illinois said that the continued blowing of the prairie winds produced headache and confusion of the mental faculties, so that he dreaded the sound of a coming wind. When he moved to another state, he experienced great relief.

Persons who do not analyze their emotions may not be conscious of their powers as weather bureaus, although they may agree with the bard:

By the prickings of my thumbs,
Something wicked this way comes.

But they would hate to acknowledge that they were forecasting a thunderstorm or a thaw. In a modern novel an old sea captain says to his wife:

"Ma, there's a storm a-brewin."

Whereupon his better half responds with some acrimony:

"You've been asleep, pa."

"That doesn't prevent a storm from brewin, does it?" retorts the old sailor, who has felt it in his bones.

Those conditions of the human system which serve as forecasts of the weather are not mere superstitious fancies, calculated only to provoke a smile, but real symptoms in touch with the life of the universe, the flowing of the sap in the tree, the rising and falling of the tides, the waxing and waning of moons. There is the possibility of a hidden truth in aching bones foretelling a storm that may yet be developed into an exact science.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Foods For Indoor and Outdoor Workers.

Mrs. S. T. Rorer, writing on "What Indigestion Really Means" in The Ladies' Home Journal, gives this instructive hint as to the proper food for indoor and outdoor laborers: "The indoor laborer, such as the editor and the bookkeeper, and all persons sitting at desks in ill ventilated and overheated rooms, need a goodly quantity of repair food—their work is trying—but less of the heat and force foods. Rice and olive oil are the best forms of heat food, as they are so easily and quickly appropriated. Outdoor laborers or those who have bodily exercise and a greater amount of fresh air should proportion their allowance three-fifths carbonaceous or heat giving foods to two-fifths albuminoids or repair foods—both ratios to be changed to suit season and climate and length of day's work. In summer, for instance, the same amount of rice would be allowed, but less oil. The fats burn with greater vigor than the starch and give in consequence a greater amount of warmth. The slow burning rice is the food of those living in warm climates, while the people in the far north live almost entirely on fat."

Washington Was the Ideal Commander.

Washington, a great commander, had the genius for getting all that was best out of the men under him, but the work of organizing and disciplining the army at Cambridge was the least of the troubles which confronted him when he faced the situation at Boston. Moreover, he knew all the difficulties, for he not only saw them, but he was never under delusions as to either pleasant or disagreeable facts. One of his greatest qualities was his absolute veracity of mind. He always looked a fact of any sort squarely in the face, and this is what he saw when he turned to the task before him. —Senator H. C. Lodge in Scribner's.

Paris, Feb. 14.—Numerous meetings were held in the provinces Sunday in connection with the Dreyfus agitation. In some cases resolutions against the government were adopted, but there were no serious disorders.

Trying to Trap General Lee.

Havana, Feb. 14.—There is a rumor that the palace authorities have a letter written by Consul General Lee, the contents of which are as interesting for Spain as De Lome's letter to Canalejas was for the United States. Another rumor has been set afloat that General Lee has resigned. A strong effort is being made to get General Lee into the same boat with De Lome.

This is what a prominent physician says: "I have given my own children the benefit of very careful study in the matter of absolute cleanliness in bottle feeding. I have studied the so-called easily-cleaned nursing bottles, and I long ago came to the conclusion that a little Pearline would render ordinary nursing bottles the safest utensils of them all. I firmly believe that children properly fed and cleanly fed will avoid the majority of the difficulties which they encounter during the first two years of life. I believe that if every feeding bottle was washed with Pearline, many innocent lives would be saved."

Surely, this is a matter to interest every mother. Nothing so thoroughly cleanses as Pearline. 546

He Owes Them to Her.

May—They say a man always kisses his wife a great deal during the honeymoon.

Belle—Well, he ought to—to make up for the other fellow's kisses she has given up.—Town Topics.

Her Choice.

"And you say that Winnifred Meredith married a man of letters?"

"Yes; her husband has his sign-painting establishment up over my store."—Chicago Daily News.

Merely a Guess.

Mrs. Grumpy—Why are the doctors hunting about and discovering so many new diseases?

Grumpy—Trying to find something that they can cure.—Detroit Free Press.

When It Is Effective.

Blinks—Moral suasion is a great thing.

Winks—Provided, of course, you've got lots of physical force to back it up.—Town Topics.

Not Wholly Unsuccessful.

Brown—The detectives have not made any arrest yet, have they?

Smith—Well, yes—they've arrested the attention of the public.—N. Y. Truth.

He Had Heard It Before.

Borer—Why don't you laugh? I don't believe you appreciate the story!

Newitt—On the contrary, I have always said that it was an excellent story.—Up-to-Date.

Had Heard It.

"Did I tell you what my boy said to Hicks?" asked Marberry.

"Yes. Four times last night and three this morning," said Barton, wearily.—Harlem Life.

The Cause of the Trouble.

She—I must confess that I told a fib. When she called, I sent word that I was not in—

He—I see; you were in and she found you out.—Puck.

Two of a Kind.

She—I detest a man who is always talking shop.

He—And I dislike a woman who always talks shopping.—Chicago Daily News.

Not So Badly Off.

"Poor Timmie! Foive years in Sing Sing. I do feel shorry for him."

"Bedad, an' yure shympathy's trowed away. He's surrounded by frinds."—Harlem Life.

A Sweet Philosopher.

He—What would you say if I should kiss you?

She—Let the good work go on.—Town Topics.

A Chicago Conversation.

Mrs. Lakeside—What profession do you expect your son to follow?

Mrs. Divorsay—Matrimony, I hope.—Yellow Book.

Going to Worse.

Tom—They say these women barbers are making quite a success.

Dick—Great heavens! the men are talkative enough.—Up-to-Date.

No Reason.

"Have you any reason for suspecting the good faith of my representation?" asked the lightning rod agent.

"Not at all," replied Farmer Corntossel. "I 'spose yer fust obligations is toward the man you're workin' fur and I'm willin' to give you full credit fur standin' right by him in this transaction."—Washington Star.

Wonderful Document.

Widow—Well, Mr. Brief, have you read the will?

Brief—Yes, but I can't make anything out of it.

Heirs—Let's have it patented. A will that a lawyer can't make anything out of is a blessing.—Tit-Bits.

Effect of Environment.

"One of the tallest men I ever knew was a Rhode-Islander. He measured nearly seven feet in height."

"Perhaps he had to grow that way. There was no room for him to spread out."—Chicago Tribune.

Is Rather Circumscribed.

"The supreme court of Delaware has forbidden women to practice law in that state."

"Well, any woman with the least bit of ambition would certainly want a wider field."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The New Girl.

The typewriter girl is never discouraged. On answering an ad. the principal of the establishment said to her:

"I am very sorry, miss, but you came too late. I have already engaged a young man stenographer."

"Well, introduce me to him. Perhaps I can marry him, and then I can take his place," was the prompt response.—N. Y. World.

Where He Missed It.

"Our only regret," said the editor of the Whangville Clarion, in his valedictory, "is that when we came here we didn't start a sewing circle instead of a newspaper. It would have supplied the people of this town with all the faculties for the dissemination of news they appear to need, and would have saved us six weeks of hard work and $327.50 in hard cash."—Chicago Tribune.

A Recipe for Happiness.

He told her she was beautiful,
He praised her "soulful eyes;"
She said that he was chivalrous,
And wonderfully wise.
He flattered her; she flattered him,
As both of them well knew,
But still they kept it up and were Serenely happy, too.
—Chicago Daily News.

A MODERN WASHINGTON.

"No, mamma, I cannot tell a lie; I sampled all the jam."

Not a Slip.

Her lover is her beau till they are wed,
But after that he'll be her beau no longer;
Nor is she sorry—bow-knots, be it said,
Oft come untied, but marriage ties are stronger.
—N. Y. Journal.

Perhaps That Is Why.

"When a doctor is ill he invariably calls in another physician to treat him, but one tailor never goes to another for a suit of clothes."

"Well, a doctor who treats a doctor never sends a bill for his services."—Judge.

One Enough.

"Alfonso," said Mrs. Midas, "here is a heading in this paper that says 'Had One Wife Too Many.' The rest of the article is torn off. How many wives do you think the brute had?"

"One, probably," was Midas' prompt reply.—Detroit Free Press.

Not Just as He Meant.

"Johnson wants to borrow some money on me. Do you know anything about him?"

"I know him as well as I do you. I wouldn't let him have a cent."—Indianapolis Journal.

M'LELLAN'S LICENSE IS TO BE REVOKED

COUNCIL WILL DO THOROUGH JOB THIS TIME.

Special Meeting Called For Tonight To Take the Necessary Steps and Final Action Will Be Taken Next Monday Which Brings All Proceedings Inside the Time Limit.

Alexander McLellan's fate is sealed and his saloon at No. 4 South River street must close.

That is what Mayor John Thoroughgood says and that is the reason why he has called a special session of the common council to be held this evening.

No other business of importance is in sight and it is an acknowledged fact that tonight's meeting is called for no other purpose than to act in the McLellan saloon matter. During the past few days City Attorney McElroy has prepared a new complaint. Now everything is ready and members of the council say that unless another surprise is sprung on them by Mr. McLellan's attorneys, they intend to close up the place this time without fail.

The present plan is to have the matter brought up tonight when an order will be made out to be served on Mr. McLellan at once for his appearance at the next meeting of the council which is held on next Monday evening and at that time his license will be revoked.

The whole formality, including both meetings of the council, will be gone through with within the ten day limit as prescribed by law and will therefore be legal.

MISS MACLOON ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Bosworth Lectures on Art and Artists, and Pleased Hearers.

Fifty ladies responded to invitations issued by Miss Helen Macloon for an art recital given Saturday afternoon, at her home, 155 South High street. The parlors presented a handsome appearance, being trimmed with cut flowers, palms and potted plants. Mrs. Bosworth, who has of late moved here from Chicago, gave a one-hour's talk on artists and their work, which proved in itself a rare treat for those fortunate enough in being present. Mrs. Bosworth is well informed on the leading paintings of the day, and that she handled her subject in a masterly way that was pleasing to all, was the universal opinion.

HENRICH SET FREE BY COURT ORDER

CASE AGAINST HIM IS DISMISSED

State Could Not Prove That He Was Married and Hence the Action Had To Be Dropped—Wife Could Not Testify in the Matter Either.

Frederick Henrich of 101 North Hickory street, who has for twenty odd years resided in this city with his wife and family, was discharged this morning in the municipal court for the reason that the state could not prove that he was married.

His wife, according to law, could not testify against her husband, and as the court failed to find their marriage certificate, there was nothing else to do but to dismiss the case. Henrich was first arrested on June 14 last;, but was released on $350 bail, and after three adjournments the case was set for February 14 a 9 a. m. This morning District Attorney Jackson appeared, and filed reasons for not filing an information against the defendant. It reads as follows:

"No testimony is obtainable to my knowledge sufficient to prove the marriage of the defendant prior to the date alleged in the complaint in this action and that without such proof conviction in the matter could not be sustained."

The court then ordered the discharge of the defendant. Attorney H. S. Sloan appeared for the defendant.

FLOUR has advanced 20 cents a barrel the past few days, or 5 cents a sack; but we still continue every day to sell Gold Medal flour at $1.30 a sack; Hard To Beat at $1.25 a sack We can afford to do it. We bought heavily at the right time. Sanborn & Co.

DIVISION No. 3, A. O. H., held a social and supper at Columbia hall Saturday evening, at which members of the division and their families participated. Smith's orchestra furnished the music for the dance and a most enjoyable time was had by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

FROM all appearance this morning Sanborn is preparing for considerable business. A car of Hard to Beat flour and a car of potatoes were being unloaded at the back door of his store and half a ton of prunes as large as hens' eggs were coming in the front door. Sanborn says he is going to fill the town full of prunes and charge only 5 cents a pound for them at that.

THE POOR GET $62 IN CASH

Bort, Bailey & Co. Pay That Amount Over to the Associated Charities.

Bort, Bailey & Co. handed to W. G. Palmer of the Associated Charities a check for $62 this morning. This represented 10 per cent on the sales Saturday when the various churches of the city took charge of the store. The sale was larger than last year. Much interest was shown in the work, and the generous action of Bort, Bailey & Co. was generally commended.

Harmony of Color.

An old house in a country town was recently repainted by a local house painter, who secured an effect which is well worth chronicling. The parlor was all gray in color, and the artist left the walls, which were in fair condition, in this color, repainting the doors and the woodwork in two shades of soft green. The effect was excellent. Around the entire ceiling was an old fashioned stuccoing of plaster. This also was touched up in two shades of green. The walls had no designs upon them, but they looked well when hung with pictures. The windows were draped with bottle green velours, and the result was an accidental harmony of colors well worth remembering.—Upholsterer.

BURGLARS AT WORK IN GROCERY STORE

SKELLY & WILBUR LOSE SMALL AMOUNT.

All the Change In the Cash Register And a Quantity of Cigars Are Taken—Entrance Effected By Breaking a Window and Unfastening the Cellar Grating.

When Fred L. Wilbur, of the grocery firm of Skelly & Wilbur, walked into the store, Nos. 3 and 5 South Jackson street, yesterday morning, he was surprised to find the cash register drawer wide open and all the change—$4 44—missing. The slide of the cigar case was open, and a number of good cigars were missing. Mr. Wilbur at once realized that burglars had been there, and the police were notified. An investigation of the premises showed that the robbers gained entrance by breaking a window in the cellar in the rear end of the store. The window was barred with iron, but as the iron grate was secured by a catch all the thieves had to do was to push back the catch and crawl in. They then walked up the cellar stairs and into the store, there being no door at the top of the stairs

The police believe the work was done by "home talent."

"I've gotten bravely over that nonesense, however,' she added cheerfully, "ever since my mother told me about Smith's Wild Cherry Cough Balsam. Now I always keep a bottle handy, give "Doss" a small teaspoonful when the cough begins, and off she goes to sleep again, and so do I, without the least bit of trouble. THE WORLD'S NEWS OF YESTERDAY.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The house will on Wednesday enter upon the consideration of the bankruptcy bill, which the majority of the judiciary committee has reported as a substitute for the Nelson bill, passed by the senate at the extra session last summer. Under the order the bill is to be debated Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, and voted upon Monday of next week at 4 o'clock. The substitute, which the minority contend practically is the old Torrey bill, including both the voluntary and involuntary features, will be opposed by the united Democratic and Populist strength, but if there is no appreciable defection from the ranks of the majority the measure will pass.

The Democrats and Populists are both favorable to the passage of a voluntary bankruptcy bill, but have always vigorously opposed the Torrey and other bills including an involuntary feature, claiming that its purpose is practically to create a law for the collection of debts. Tuesday will probably be devoted to the consideration of such business as is reported from the committees and to a call of committees, and Friday will, under the rules, be devoted to private bills.

The Hawaiian annexation treaty will receive the greater share of the Senate's atention during the present week. The friends of the treaty have succeeded in securing quite general assent from senators in charge of other measures that the treaty shall be given practical right of way until the senators who want to speak upon it can be heard, and until a vote can be secured. The Corbett case has right of way, but the probabilities are that an arrangement will be made early in the week whereby a time will be fixed for voting on this question. There will be speeches by Senators Gorman, Pettus, Money, Lodge and others in support of the Hawaiian treaty, while Senator Pettigrew has not yet concluded his speech in opposition. It now looks as if the fortifications bill would not be considered this week.

CUBAN FORCES CONCENTRATE.

Garcia and Rabi Will Unite to Oppose Pando's Movements.

Havana, Feb. 14.—General Pando, it is announced here, will take the field again in the eastern provinces.

News reached Havana, and is officially confirmed, that General Calixto Garcia is moving with a strong force to Contramaeste, Santiago de Cuba province, where it is believed that General Jesus Rabi is stationed.

The purpose of Garcia is said to be to hold a conference with Rabi. Perhaps the departure of General Pando for Santiago de Cuba has something to do with these movements of the Cuban army.

It is reported that the Spanish guerrilla force of Baracoa, Santiago de Cuba, is showing great discontent with its newly appointed leader, Colonel Ferrer.

Sherry's Assets Are Small.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 14.—A statement of the liabilities of Henry Sherry and the six companies in which he was interested gives the amount as $1,250.000, with nominal assets at $700,000. Mr. Sherry's personal liabilities are $628,000, and in addition to this he has indorsed the paper of his corporations for $580,000 more. The assets to meet this are now estimated to be worth $350,000.

France Has the Most Gold.

Paris, Feb. 14.—The ministry of finance recently instituted an inquiry to learn the amount of gold in circulation. It has ascertained that there is $800,000,000 worth bearing the French stamp. It is claimed that this is the record amount. It is stated that the United States has $720,000,000, Germany $680,000,000, and Great Britain and Russia $600,000,000 each.

Big Fire at Moline, Ill.

Moline, Ill., Feb. 14.—The opera house of this city, commonly known as the Auditorium, was totally destroyed by fire Sunday night. The fire started in the basement near the center of the structure and spread so rapidly that the families who lived in the building were obliged to escape by ladders. The total losses will aggregate $75,000.

To Try for Eight-Hour Day.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 14.—The executive boards of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, the Federated Trades' council, and Building Trades' council of this city met in conference Sunday, and adopted a number of resolutions indorsing the movement for the establishment of an eight-hour day after May 1, and various other measures.

MORE FIRE VICTIMS FOUND.

Number of Bodies Recovered at Pittsburg Reaches Thirteen.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 12.—Two more bodies were taken from the ruins of Wednesday night's fire at 10 o'clock Saturday. They were the bodies of William Finch of the fire department, known as "Little Chief," and George Newman, an inspector for the Philadelphia Natural Gas company. The remains were terribly mangled and almost unrecognizable.

The finding of these bodies makes thirteen already taken from the ruins, and it is now believed the workmen are close to where a number of bodies will be found. An additional force of 200 men was put to work clearing the debris, and it is thought that if there are any more bodies in the ruins they will be uncovered within the next twenty-four hours. Thirty-five people are still missing.

With the exception of Lieut. Rosamund of No. 2 engine company, whose legs were amputated, all of the patients at the Homeopathic hospital injured in the fire are getting along well and will recover. Rosamund's condition is critical and he may die.

CHARGES AGAINST JURORS.

Luetgert's Attorneys Will File Affidavits This Week.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—During the present week affidavits will be filed in the Criminal court in support of the motion for a new trial for Luetgert. Among these will be affidavits of persons who will set forth that they saw Mrs. Louise Luetgert after May 1, 1897, the date of her disappearance from her home. It was said yesterday that Attorney Harmon would file affidavits attacking one or more of the jurors, who will be alleged to have committed perjury at the time of selection to serve on the case. The perjury allegation will be based, it is said, on the assertion that the jurors to be named had talked about the Luetgert case and had expressed opinions with reference to the guilt of the defendant, but denied having done so prior to acceptance as jurors. The prosecution will, it was said yesterday, obtain from each of the jurors affidavits of denial if these charges are made.

SUNDAY LAWS IN FORCE.

Proprietors of Toledo Theaters Again Under Arrest.

Toledo, Ohio, Feb. 15.—Notwithstanding the fact that the City Council has repealed many of its old blue law ordinances, the Sunday laws were more vigorously enforced here Sunday than ever. At the close of the sacred concert at the Valentine Theater the owner of the theater, George H. Ketcham, was again arrested, taken to the police station, and his appearance entered for to-morrow morning. The same performance was repeated at the Peoples, Wonderland, and other theaters. While all will be arraigned today, it is understood that all cases will be deferred until Wednesday, when test suits are to be inaugurated and the case fought to a finish.

Three Murdered in Indiana.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 14.—During a quarrel in a saloon at Grant, a coal mining town north of this city, John Carrington shot and killed Wesley Niece Saturday night. He also shot Bayliss Niece, who will die. The murderer escaped. At Lyford, another mining town, the postmaster, John Gilfoy, shot Joseph Hoffman, who will die. John Besete, an Italian, was struck in the neck with a miner's pick and killed. His body was then placed under the elevator running down to the shaft, where it was found. The last murder was committed at Lodi.

Upsala College Will Move.

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 14.—At the session of the Swedish Lutheran conference it was voted to permit the trustees of Upsala College, Brooklyn, N. Y., to do as they please in the matter of its removal. This means that the college will be moved to New Orange, N. J., where land valued at $60,000 and an endowment fund of $100,000 have been offered to it, conditioned on the change. The opposition wanted the Brooklyn college abandoned, holding that Augustana College at Rock Island, Ill., was sufficient for all needs.

Vigilance Committee Formed.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 14.—The steamer Utopia, which has arrived from Skaguay and Dyea, reports that a vigilance committee is being formed at Skaguay, and it is the intention of the committee to drive out of town the horde of toughs and bunko men. "Hold-ups" and petty larceny are being daily reported, and it is more than probable that lynchings will occur unless the authorities act promptly.

The Bill in Line.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce has decided to give a hearing on Tuesday, the 15th, to those who desire to be heard on the Hepburn bill for the establishment of a new department of industry and commerce, and to give hearings on the 18th and 19th to those interested i nthe national quarantine bill.

REED POINTS OUT LIMIT.

Speaker Declares That Congress Must Adjourn May 1.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Speaker Reed has given it out that congress must adjourn May 1. He is in favor of inaugurating a series of adjourning over to prevent the consideration of private bills and preserve a record for economy. The committee on rules has not yet consented to report such a rule, but may do so later.

One circumstance that prevented the committee from acting upon Speaker Reed's suggestion was the pending bankruptcy bill. The committee wants the bill passed and has set apart next Saturday for its consideration. After that is out of the way the rules committee will probably accede to the speaker's request and report for regular adjournments to cut off private bill days.

The chairman of the public buildings and grounds committee has already reported that no more meetings of his committee will be held this session. This order was made at Speaker Reed's request, to circumvent public building bills. There is now no way in which a public building bill can get before the house. If proposed as an amendment to an appropriation bill it would be subject to the well-known point of order under the rules, that of being new legislation which did not retrench expenditures, and hence not germane.

The rivers and harbors committee had already decided to report no bill. There is nothing of importance before the house except the bankruptcy and immigration bills. Speaker Reed's plan for adjourning congress is to make its run on a clear track and there is no reason, apparently, why it should not go through on schedule time. The speaker said today that the passage of a financial bill was out of the question and a great many republican representatives did not consider it good politics to pass the immigration bill on the eve of the congressional elections.

Spain Needs Money.

London, Feb. 14.—It is understood that Spain recently applied to Great Britain for assistance in raising a loan, to which the Marquis of Salisbury referred at the opening of the house of lords on Tuesday last, when he said that China was not the only government which might want money. According to club gossip, the Spanish legations in London and elsewhere are suffering from long delay to their remittances and the diplomats have been forced to defray the expenses of their establishments.

Sicard Back on Duty.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Considerable significance is attached to the fact that Rear Admiral Sicard, who was just given two months' leave on account of sickness, has returned to take command of the fleet. He discovered yesterday that he was well again and went at once to Key West, where he took the dispatch boat Fearn for the Dry Tortugas. There is no doubt his change of plans is due to the growing strain in our relations with Spain.

Menelek to Visit Europe.

London, Feb. 14.—King Menelek of Abyssinia is preparing for a journey to the European capitals and is collecting all the objects of special artistic interest in Abyssinia, the most valuable of which he will take as gifts to the various rulers. His majesty intends to be absent about eight months and the government of Abyssinia during that time will be intrusted to the queen.

Heavy Snowstormin Japan.

Join United Mine Workers.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 14.—The Alabama miners, 12,000 strong, have decided to affiliate with the United Mine Workers of America and have called a state convention for March 15 to effect this purpose. Heretofore they have been an independent state body. The action is regarded with apprehension by the furnace and coal operators.

Why We Do Not Live a Hundred Years.

Almost all persons die of disappointment, personal, mental or bodily toil or accident. The passions kill men sometimes even suddenly. The common expression, "choked with rage," has little exaggeration in it, for even though not suddenly fatal, strong passions shorten life. Strong-bodied men often die young, weak men live longer than the strong, for the strong use their strength and the weak have none to use—the latter take care of themselves, the former do not. As it is with the body, so it is with the mind and the temper; the strong are apt to break, or, like the candle, run; the weak burn out. The inferior animals which live temperate lives have generally their prescribed term of years. Thus the horse lives twenty-five years, the ox fifteen or twenty, the lion about twenty, the hog ten or twelve, the rabbit eight, the guinea pig six or seven. The numbers all bear proportion to the time the animal takes to grow its full size. But man, of all animals, is one that seldom comes up to the average age. He ought to live a hundred years, according to the physiological law, for five times twenty are one hundred; but instead of that he scarcely reaches an average of four times the growing period. The reason is obvious—man is not only the most irregular and most intemperate, but the most laborious and hard-working of all animals. He is always the most irritable, and there is reason to believe though we cannot tell what an animal secretly feels, that, more than any other animal, man cherishes wrath to keep it warm, and consumes himself with the fire of his own reflections.

DR. WURTH'S OPINION

OF THE NEW DISCOVERY IN MEDICINE.

A Remarkably Successful Remedy for Dyspepsia. Indigestion and Stomach Troubles.

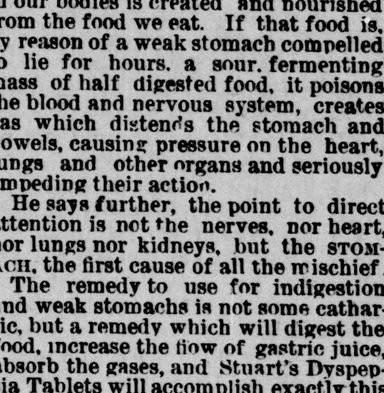

Dr. Wurth, in commenting on recent discoveries in medicine said: There is none which is certain to be so valuable and far reaching in benefit as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the new stomach remedy; I say far reaching, because people little realize how important a sound stomach and vigorous digestion is to every man, woman and child.

Indigestion is the starting point of consumption, heart disease, Bright's disease, diabetes, nervous prostration, liver troubles; why is this so? Simply because every nerve, muscle and tissue in our bodies is created and nourished from the food we eat. If that food is, by reason of a weak stomach compelled to lie for hours, a sour, fermenting mass of half digested food, it poisons the blood and nervous system, creates gas which distends the stomach and bowels, causing pressure on the heart, lungs and other organs and seriously impeding their action.

He says further, the point to direct attention is not the nerves, nor heart, nor lungs nor kidneys, but the STOMACH, the first cause of all the mischief.

The remedy to use for indigestion and weak stomachs is not some cathartic, but a remedy which will digest the food, increase the flow of gastric juice, absorb the gases, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will accomplish exactly this result in any case of stomach trouble, because these tablets are composed of the digestive acids, aseptic pepsin, Golden Seal and Bismuth, pleasant to taste, and not being a patenf medicine, can be used by anyone with peffect safety. I believe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any form of indigestion and stomach trouble except cancer of stomach.

Full size packages of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents. A book on stomach diseases together with thousands of testimonials will be sent by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

INCIDENT WILL THEN CLOSE.

Minister Gullon Will Express a Desire That the Incident May Not Impair the Friendly Relations or Delay the Treaty—The New Minister.

New York, Feb. 15.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says: "A formal statement of regret at and censure of Dupuy de Lome's conduct, coupled with an expression of sincere desire that the Conalejas letter incident shall not impair the present friendly relations between the governments of Spain and the United States, or interrupt the negotiations for a commercial treaty, will be made by Foreign Minister Gullon immediately following the gazetting of the royal decree accepting Senor de Lome's resignation and appointing his successor as Spain's representative at Washington."

On the other hand, the Washington correspondent of the World says that Spain has not disavowed responsibility for the utterances of Senor de Lome, and does not consider that any disclaimer of that character is necessary. From Spain's point of view the incident is closed, not only as to De Lome's reflections upon the President and the American people, but as to his declaration that autonomy is a mockery and reciprocity a fraud.

Such is the unsatisfactory information contained in the long-expected statement from Mr. Woodford received Saturday night.

IN DELOME'S PLACE.

Duke of Arcos Likely to Be Sent to Washington

Madrid, Feb. 14.—For the present it seems likely that the duke of Arcos, Spanish minister to Mexico will be promoted to Washington. He married an American, speaks English, and could reach Washington rapidly. His credentials will be sent immediately, arriving at Washington about the same time as the delegates of Spain, Cuba and Puerto Rico, whose presence might be a guarantee of the sincerity of Spain in the treaty negotiations.

All rumors about sending Spanish ironclads and torpedo boats to Cuban waters are premature.

To Close the Session.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 14.—There is but little business on the senate calendar and the proceedings promise to be dull until the conference committees on revenue completes its report. The Republicans will caucus Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock on the question of sine die adjournment. Many of the members are anxious to get through this week and wind up the extraordinary session on Friday. Whether or not the business on hand may be disposed of by that time depends largely on the progress made by the revenue conference committee. If the differences on revenue legislation are speedily settled by the committee it is likely that this will be the last week of the extraordinary session.

Fear Lewis Will Be Lynched.

Columbus, Ind., Feb. 14.—The authorities here fear that James Lewis, who shot and killed John Williams, one of the most prominent democratic politicians of Bartholomew county, at Jonesville late Friday night, will be lynched, and preparations have been made for any trouble. At the funeral of the murdered man, which took place at Jonesville Sunday afternoon, many open threats of lynching were made, and this caused the officers to be on the outlook. Saturday night the prisoner was guarded by several heavily armed men. He is greatly frightened and wails piteously all the time.

Must Read Scriptures.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 14.—A formidable movement has been started in Kansas to compel the reading of the Bible in the public schools, and it is proposed to force the issue at the regular school board elections in April. William Baker of Wabaunsee county has issued an appeal to "all Christian parents" to vote for the proposition, and also to declare for the election only of teachers who are professors of religion and who will promise to carry this reform into effect.

Cut Their Way Out.

Texarkana, Ark., Feb. 14.—A wholesale jail delivery was effected in this city early Sunday morning. Eighteen prisoners made their escape and are still at liberty. The prisoners made their egress by disjointing in some way the iron bars of their cells and cutting through the outer wall, twenty-two inches thick, composed of brick, rock and glass. It was a herculean task and its accomplishment is the marvel of brick workers in this city.

Protest Against Torture.

Barcelona, Feb. 14.—Thirty thousand people, mostly workmen and orderly, demonstrated here against the torture of the anarchists at Mont Juich fortress. Resolutions of protest and demanding the punishment of the torturers and a revision of the trial were adopted and will be forwarded to the government.

Excursion Rates to the Madri Gras and Winter Resorts.

On account of the Mardi Gras at New Orleans and Mobile, the Northwestern line will, February 14 to 20, inclusive, sell excursion tickets at very low rates, limited for return passage until March 19th. Excursion tickets are also on sale daily, at reduced rates to the principal winter resorts in the United States and Mexico. For full information apply to ticket agents Chicago & Northwestern R'y.

INHERITANCE LAW ATTACKED.

Judge Thornell Holds the Iowa Act to Be Unconstitutional.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Feb. 14.—Judge Thornell has rendered a decision declaring unconstitutional the new collateral-inheritance law that went into effect with the new code. The case was tried a week ago in the District court here and taken under advisement. It was the case of the state treasurer against the administrator in the estate of Frank C. Stewart of Carson, a farmer who died last fall, leaving an estate of about $50,000, the greater part of which was willed to collateral heirs. It came before the court on a demurrer filed by the defendant, alleging that the law itself was not only unjust and against public policy, but was unconstitutional for the reason that it failed to provide for any notice being given to the heirs of the administrator of the intentions of the state to take without recourse to law an amount equal to 5 per cent of the entire estate, less the debts. Judge Thornell sustained the demurrer and every contention raised by the defendant. He declared the law was unconstitutional in that it contravened the rights of the individual to dispose of his property and gave the owner of the property no opportunity to appear and question the appraisement or to be present when the appraisement was being made or have any part in any of the proceedings. There are over 800 cases in the state affected by this decision, and the 5 per cent tax involved in suits now filed or ready to be filed approximates nearly $100,000.

Fire Scatters the Orphans.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 14.—As the result of an alarm of fire in St. Vincent's orphan asylum at St. Francis. near this city, the police were kept busy gathering in small boys. When the fire was discovered the orphans were turned loose and made a rush to the open air. The fire was soon extinguished and when the children were again gathered into the building it was found that thirty were missing. The city police were notified at once and a general hunt begun. Fifteen of the missing orphans were found by the police, but the others have not yet been located. They are supposed to have taken refuge in various houses. None of the children were injured.

Alton Colored People Win.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 14.—In the Alton public school case the colored people gained a victory in the Supreme court Saturday. The court sustained the petitions and arguments to the demurrer filed in answer to the petition for mandamus. The mayor and other citizens of Alton filed the answer, stating that they had certain rights and control over the schools of Alton, and it was to this the demurrer was made. Gen. Palmer and John J. Brenholt, attorneys for Scott Bibb, will shortly ask that a peremptory writ be issued compelling the school board of Alton to admit Minnie and Ambrose Bibb to the Washington school.

Farmer and Wife Tortured.

Tiffin, O., Feb. 14.—Two masked robbers entered the farmhouse of James E. Bolivar, living near Vanlue, at an early hour Sunday morning and terribly beat Bolivar and his wife. The robbers thought Bolivar had considerable money about the house and tortured the two, thinking they would reveal the hiding place. Bolivar produced a bank book, showing he had deposited his money, and the robbers left, securing only about $12.

Equal Suffrage Convention.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The thirteenth annual meeting of the National Women Suffrage Association began Sunday afternoon at the Columbia Theater. The meeting also signalized the fiftieth anniversary of the first convention of women devoted to women's rights in this country. The feature of the meeting was a sermon by the Rev. Anna Shaw. Miss Susan B. Anthony also spoke briefly on the present outlook.

Blow Is Dealt Union Labels.

New York, Feb. 14.—Vice Chancellor Stevenson of Jersey City has decided in effect that the union labels designated to indicate fair-made goods are not privileged trade-marks and might be copied with impunity by anybody. It also declares unconstitutional all trades union label laws in New Jersey. The litigation over the question has been going on for a year or more.

Yuen-Chau-Fu As a Treaty Port.

Pekin, Feb. 14.—Great Britain is negotiating with China to open Yuen-Chau-Fu, in the province of Hu-Nan, as a treaty port, and is negotiating also on the subject of navigation of inland waters.

The Chinese government has paid the agreed indemnity of £4,000 ($20,000) to M. Lyaudet, the Frenchman kidnapped by Tonquin pirates in 1895.

Big Price For a Broken Heart

Not long since a Danville Ill., jury ordered the male defendant in a breach of promise case to pay the decidedly competent sum of $54,333.33 to the afflicted fair one. This was thought to be the largest amount ever awarded by a jury in a similar action. Though it is a pretty high estimate of blighted affection, there is another estimate which if not in dollars and cents exactly as high, yet in general consideration of excellence reaches as lofty an altitude. That is the estimate of the people in their general verdict as to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for constipation. The action of this gentle, but effective laxative is never accompanied by the griping and abdominal disturbances which precedes or accompany the operation of a griping cathartic. Moreover it is an uncomparable remedy for and preventative of malarial, rheumatic and kidney complaints, a never failing means of invigorating the stomach and nervous system, and a promoter of appetite and sleep. Persistence in its use is strongly advisable.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 14.—The City Forge and Iron Company of this city has just received a big order for sugar-making machinery to be put into a refinery in Hawaii.

SERIOUS MOVE DECIDED ON.

Representatives of New England Textile Unions Reach an Important Decision at Boston—Operatives to Be Called Out.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 14.—The conference of textile delegates held in this city Sunday recommended a general strike in all cotton mills in New England. The meeting was called by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, Secretary Ross of the National Mule-Spinners' association and others to devise ways and means to assist the clothmill strikers. Forty-two delegates, representing every textile union in New England, responded, and, though the meeting lasted four hours, it was one of the most harmonious ever held by labor leaders. There were no evidences of the reported discord among those present, the discussion being of the pleasantest kind. The contending factions in the textile trade were represented in the delegates from the rival organizations, and the unanimity with which the vote to recommend a general strike was carried bore out the assertion made by the leaders that the cotton operatives' organizations were more united than was generally credited in the public press.

It is estimated that there are 148,000 cotton operatives in the New England states, and that if the strike order should be favored by the various organizations fully 145,000 would be affected. Soon after convening the measures for securing financial aid were carefully canvassed and ways and means devised to receive more prompt assistance from the unions affiliated with the federation. President Duggan and Secretary Ross of the Spinners' union reported upon the condition of their organization, claiming that the mule spinners were never better equipped for a fight to a finish than at present.

The representatives of the other textile unions did not report such a glowing condition of affairs, because of the fact that, with the exception of the New England Federation of Weavers and the National Union of Textile-Workers, the other organizations were but newly organized. All of these unions were in favor of continuing the fight, however, because of the united and determined stand taken by their members during the contest at New Bedford, Biddeford, Saco and Taunton, where 17,600 are now on strike.

The Biddeford delegates believed that all of the mills in New England should be closed down as soon as possible, they claiming that this would lead to an earlier settlement in the cities where strikes were in operation. They said they went into the fight against the reduction because the wages paid were lower than a self-respecting man or woman should be compelled to work for. They also stated that the storerooms in these cities were nearly empty, and that if a general strike was ordered the manufacturers would be forced to give in.

After fully discussing the situation the following motion was unanimously carried: "Voted, That we recommend for the favorable consideration of all unions the advisability of ordering all cotton-textile operatives to quit work at once."

New Bedford Not Pleased.

New Bedford, Mass., Feb. 14.—From the point of view of the New Bedford strikers the action taken by the conference of textile unions in Boston is scarcely likely to be received with joy, inasmuch as it is against the policy adopted at the meetings of the Executive committee of the National Spinners' union—to-wit: That New Bedford should be made the battle ground, and until the conclusion of the strike here the other textile centers should remain at work, thereby acquiring the means to assist the New Bedford operatives in their struggle.

At the end of the New Bedford fight the plan was, whether New Bedford won or lost, the strike against the general reduction should be extended in one district at a time until the whole of New England had been covered.

Stains Made by Blood.

Burlington, Iowa, Feb. 14.—When A. D. Storms left his duck coat rolled up in a bundle under his cot in the police station where he was confined after being arrested for the murder of Mrs. Rathburn and her daughter, he left the state the best evidence possible of his guilt. The state has had the dark stains on his coat examined by experts, who pronounce them human blood. Pieces of the bedspread and sections of the bloody floor from the house where the murder was committed were also examined with the same results. Data is also secured showing that the crime was committed at 9 o'clock Sunday night, Jan. 23.

A TIDAL WAVE OF SUCCESS

Is Sweeping Over the Land, and Carrying Munyon's Cures Into Every Home.

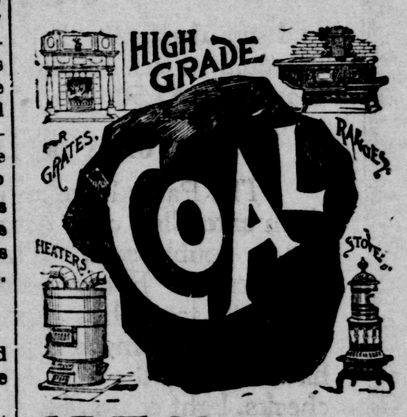

Munyon's cures are numbered in millions. Presidents and Cabinet officers have been restored to health by Munyon's remedies. Doctors indorse Munyon. Preachers praise Munyon. The people honor Munyon. Munyon shows his love for mankind and proclaims his self-confidence by giving away his remedies in cities and towns overrun by disease. Pain and suffering melt away before Munyon's little pellets like a panic-stricken army before a battery of Gatling guns.

Munyon's new and humane methods of treatment have swept away all the old-fashioned ideas of doctoring with poisonous drugs that create a dozen diseases in the effort to get rid of one. He does not claim that he has one remedy that will cure all complaints, but that he has prepared a specific cure for nearly every disease.

Munyon does not claim that Munyon's Rheumatism Cure will cure consumption, dyspepsia or any other complaint, but he does assert that it will cure rheumatism. Munyon's Dyspepsia Cure is prepared expressly to cure dyspepsia; Munyon's Cough Cure to cure coughs; Munyon's Catarrh Remedies to cure catarrh; Munyon's Kidney Cure to cure kidney troubles. The same may be said of all Munyon's different remedies. They may be obtained at all drug stores mostly at 25 cents a bottle.

Personal letters to Professor Munyon, 1505 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

Linens:

To Delight Housekeepers.

Wednesday, February 16th.

Just as fine as the most exacting could expect—snowy white and priced in a way to make buying easy. We've often said "always glad to show goods." We're particularly glad to show these new linens, for even if you are not quite ready to buy you are not apt to wait, after knowing Wednesday's prices. Always a fascination about linens for the thrifty housewife. There's a double fascination when, as in this case, prices are so much beneath values. Witness:

60-inch brown Austrian Damask, a standard quality for every day use, 42½c. Same in 66-inch, 47½c.

66-inch extra heavy and fine cream Damask, splendid quality, 62½c.

62-inch full bleached Damask (all pure linen), 42½c.

Beautiful patterns in 66-inch bleached Satin Damask, fit for any table, 62½c.

Heaviest and finest of bleached Satin Damask (such as can be found only here), 87½c.

5-8 bleached Napkins in a large variety of patterns; dozen, $1.20. Others at $1.35, $1.65, $1.85, $2.15, $2.35, and up to $7 per dozen; these prices are for Napkins in all sizes up to the large dinner size.

19x36 all linen hemmed Huck Towels, per pair, 25c.

Turkish Bath Towels—25 dozen for this sale; pair, 25c.

Beautiful large size Damask Towels with knotted fringes, hemstitching, open work; etc., towels in the lot worth to a dollar, Wednesday, 50c.

Wednesday, prices on CRASHES.
Wednesday, prices on PATTERN CLOTHS.
Wednesday, prices on FANCY LINENS. . .

Any prices named above or that will be made on many lines not mentioned are based on the import cost before the new tariff became effective, and are therefore on an average 20 per cent. under today's cost to land. To buy now would be to your advantage---next Wednesday.
